A Toast to Laughter.

Under the above heading we find the following, but don't know whose it is. It sounds a little like Bob Taylor and a little like Bob Ingersoll, but it's good, no matter whose it is:

"Here's to laughter, the sun shine of the soul, the happiness of the heart, the leaven of youth, the privilege of purity, the echo of innocence, the treasure of the humble, the wealth of the poor, the head of the cup of pleasure; it dispels dejection, banishes blues and mingles melancholy, for it's the foe of woe, the destroyer of depression, the enemy of grief; it is what kings envy peasants, plutocrats envy the poor, the guilty envy the innocent; it's the sheen on the silver of smiles, the ripple on the waters of delight, the glint on the gold of gladness; without it humor would be dumb, wit wither, dimples would disappear, and smiles would shrivel for it's the glow of a conscience, the voice of a pure soul, the birth cry of mirth, the swan-song of sadness.—Laughter."

Dwelling houses are constantly being built in Elba, but it is seldom that there is a vacant house in town for rent. It just means that the town is growing steadily, and that more good people are constantly coming in.

JURY HAS FOUND DR. CRIPPEN GUILTY

Verdict of Willful Murder Returned Against American.

CASE GOES TO HIGHER COURT

Death of Belle Elmore, the Actress, is Charged to the American Dentist By English Jury—Case Attracted World Wide Attention.

A London despatch says: The coroner's jury has returned a verdict of willful murder against Dr. Hawley H. Crippen, the American dentist, in connection with the finding in the Crippen Hilldrop-Crescent residence last July of the mutilated body supposed to be that of Crippen's wife, who was known on the stage as Belle Elmore. The verdict reached by the coroner's jury was to the effect that the mutilated body found buried in the cellar of the Crippen home was that of Cora Crippen, who had been willfully murdered by Dr. Crippen. The verdict added that the cause of death was poisoning by hyacinth.

No evidence beyond that given at the Bow street police court was produced at the coroner's inquiry. The police announced that they had nothing further to submit.

William Long, who formerly was connected with the accused dentist, and who purchased the boy's suit which Miss Leneve wore when arrested on board the steamer Montrose off Quebec, was asked by the coroner whether he had ever bought him. He answered in the negative.

The chemist from whom Dr. Crippen purchased hyacinth, traces of which compound Dr. William H. Wixcox, the scientific analyst, to the home office, previously testified he had found in the buried mass of flesh, said that the odor from the medicine was given several days before the drug was taken away. He also declared that Crippen never previously had purchased hyacinth at his pharmacy.

ACCIDENT ON BATTLESHIP.

Crew of the Georgia Have Miraculous Escape When Gun Burst.

During target practice of the Atlantic fleet off the Virginia capes, one of the big 13-inch 50-ton guns of the battleship Georgia burst on the first range shot. The muzzle as far back as the forward end of the jacket was blown off. The crew miraculously escaped injury.

The accident was to the left gun in the forward turret of the Georgia and the big rifle probably was ruined. The report of the accident reached the navy department at Washington in a wireless dispatch from the command-in-chief, Rear Admiral Schroeder. The Georgia is commanded by Capt. William L. Rodgers, and is the flagship of Rear Admiral Samuel P. Conly, commander of the third division of the Atlantic fleet.

The accident, of course, put a material part of the Georgia's battery out of business, but the battleship still has three 12-inch guns to work with and will continue the target practice with them. It will not interfere with the Georgia's participation in the coming European cruise of the Atlantic fleet, for another gun, which is built at the Washington navy yard, will be in readiness to replace the ruined one on November 1.

Mr. T. J. Pritchett committed suicide at Dubin, Ga., by shooting himself through the right temple. A few minutes after 5 o'clock in the morning Mrs. Pritchett heard what she thought was an explosion from an electric bulb in her husband's room and ran to the door. Her screams brought to her their daughter, Miss Lida, and several neighbors. He was unconscious when they arrived and died a few minutes later. Mr. Pritchett was an asthmatic and had been suffering from an attack for the past ten days.

MAIL CAR LOOTED.

Masked Robbers Secure An Unknown Amount on Southern Pacific.

Two masked robbers invaded the mail car on the Southern Pacific train leaving New Orleans and secured several batches of registered mail. No attempt was made to rob passengers. It has not yet been ascertained what the robbers obtained. The robbery took place at Avondale, 12 miles west of New Orleans. Postoffice officials at New Orleans state that they could not make an estimate of the loss, their only report being from one of the mail clerks that the postal car had been robbed. The robbers are supposed to have boarded the train at New Orleans and have entered the mail car when the train came to a stop at Avondale where the Mississippi river is ferried.

Millers announced a 20-cent reduction in the price of Oriental brands of flour, and a 15-cent reduction on Central and South American brands. The reductions are due to the desire of the millers to stimulate export flour trade. Since the flurry in June and July, the export trade has been dead.

SIMEON E. BALDWIN.

Democratic Candidate For Governor of Connecticut.

JUDGE SCOTT SLAIN.

Cordele Planter is Victim of a Tenant's Gun.

As the result of an altercation between Judge J. H. Scott and J. Henry Day, on the former's plantation, on which the latter is a tenant, about 10 miles east of Cordele, Ga., Judge Scott is dead and Day is incarcerated in the county jail with a slight knife wound about his body, inflicted by a knife in the hands of Judge Scott.

The non had become involved in a dispute over the possession of some cotton grown on the place by Day, when Judge Scott, who lives with his family in Cordele, went out to his farm armed with a possessory warrant for the cotton. A difficulty ensued.

It is understood Judge Scott advanced on Day, slaying him with a knife. Day drew his pistol and fired, killing Scott instantly.

Day immediately hurried to town and surrendered to the officers. Both men are men of families. Judge Scott being 65 years of age, while Day is about 40.

JOY RIDERS ARE TRAILED BY DEATH

Fast Speeding Auto Dashed Into Canal.

4 PERSONS ARE DROWNED

Accident Came as a Climax to An All Night Frolic at a Popular Resort as Party Was Returning to New Orleans.

All four occupants of a large touring car returning from a lake resort to New Orleans were drowned when the car, rounding a curve in the West End shell road at a high rate of speed, shot straight ahead and plunged into the new basin canal.

The accident came as a climax to a night's frolic, the party having spent the greater part of the night at West End, a famous summer resort near New Orleans.

The Dead.

W. R. Freeman, 35 years old, of 235 William street, New York City.

Thomas Boettler, 43 years old, of New Orleans.

Dorothy Hall, 21 years old, of New Orleans.

Marion Giblen, 25 years old, of New Orleans.

A laborer on his way to work was the only witness to the accident. He said the car passed him at such a clip that he was unable to note how many persons it contained. It was at first reported that the car had seven occupants when it left West End, and the canal was drained for three hours.

Later it was definitely established that Boettler, Freeman and the two women were the only persons in the car when it went into the canal. Although the bodies remained at the bottom of the canal but a few hours, shrimp, crabs and garfish disfigured them to such an extent that they were barely recognizable. Several of them had ears and noses eaten completely off. The identity of the women was established largely through their wearing apparel and their hair.

Millers announced a 20-cent reduction in the price of Oriental brands of flour, and a 15-cent reduction on Central and South American brands. The reductions are due to the desire of the millers to stimulate export flour trade. Since the flurry in June and July, the export trade has been dead.

NIGHT RIDER CASE IS UP FOR TRIAL

Alleged Participants In Hopkinsville, Ky., Raid.

TO ANSWER GRAVE CHARGE

Much Interest Manifested in Trial of Those Who Are Alleged to Have Figured in Memorable Raid Occurring in Kentucky Town in 1907.

The fall term of the Christian circuit court, which convened at Hopkinsville, Ky., with Judge Hanberry presiding, will be notable for the so-called "night rider" case on the docket. Dr. David A. Amos, Newton Nichols, Guy Deuling, J. B. Malone, Irving Glass and John Robinson are under indictment on three separate counts, alleging complicity and participation in the memorable raid on Hopkinsville December 7, 1907, when a band of three hundred burned three large warehouses and other property, shot up the town, wounded two men and whipped a tobacco buyer.

Dr. Amos is accused of being the "general" and organizer of the secret clan that terrorized that section for many months. He is a physician of Cobi, Ky. The other defendants reside in Lyon, Trigg and Caldwell counties, except Glass, whose home is in Sikeston, Mo.

A hard legal battle is expected.

THROUGH THE RAPIDS.

Man in Barrel Braves the Whirlpool of Niagara.

Bobby Leach, of Niagara Falls, Ont., made a trip through the Whirlpool rapids in a barrel, starting from the Maid of the Mist, landing near the Cantleaver bridge. Except for a few scratches and bruises, Leach, who claims to have made the trip several times before, was uninjured.

Leach entered the rapids at 2:57, and went through them in three minutes, riding the tremendous waves smoothly. The great waves caught the barrel and hurled it clear of the water, but it righted itself nicely and went on to the Whirlpool without mishap. Five times the barrel circled the Whirlpool, keeping to the outer edge. At the south end of the pool it was caught in an inshore eddy and with a pole at 5:05.

The only one of the barrel navigators to be killed in the trip to the Whirlpool was Maud Willard, who suffocated in her barrel in September, 1901. She was in the Whirlpool for five hours.

SAM'L F. PARROTT DEAD.

Prominent Railroad Man Passes Away.

Samuel Fain Parrott, part owner of the Piedmont hotel, president of the Atlantic Compress Company and one of the most prominent railroad men in the south, died at the Elkin sanitarium in Atlanta on Monday, after a lingering illness.

Although Mr. Parrott had been in poor health since last May, he was not considered dangerously ill until about three weeks ago, when he had a relapse and steadily grew weaker. Mr. Parrott was one of the receivers of the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic railroad.

A STRANGE FATALITY.

Man Laid Trap for Thieves and is Himself the Victim.

J. B. Beasley, a prominent merchant and postmaster of Rockport, near Georgetown, Miss., met death in a peculiar manner.

Several weeks ago burglars robbed Beasley's store and the postoffice. In expectation of another visit from the burglars, Beasley had set a loaded shotgun so that when the door was opened the gun would be discharged. Forgetting the trap he had laid, Beasley attempted to enter the store and the gun was discharged, killing him almost instantly.

AFFAIRS IN W. Frank "Jack" WORLD OF

Horner, widely known in baseball circles, died at New Orleans at a local hotel as a result of an accident in the baths of the hotel. Entering the baths with friends shortly before 8 a. m., Horner slipped on a marble step and fell to the floor, fracturing his skull. He never regained consciousness. He was on his way to San Antonio, traveling in the interest of the Detroit baseball club, for which he served as a scout in hunting for promising young players in the south. He was a very popular sporting man in the south.

"Mum" Was The Word.

An evening's entertainment of a novel character was enjoyed by a large party Friday evening last at the home of Mrs. Sam Windham, under the auspices of the ladies of the Methodist Church. The occasion was a Non-Egotistical Party as the lines in the cards of invitation indicated: "You may talk as you will, but this we decree."

You must not use 'I,' 'myself,' or 'me.'

You may talk of others, and of their good health.

But we'll fine you five cents if you speak of yourself."

The amusement ran high as each one with studied effort endeavored to converse without the use of the pronoun "I," or "me;" and then when one would inadvertently bring in a forbidden word the merriment would break into immoderate laughter, as the guilty one would be subjected to a fine.

For refreshments light punch was served upon entrance, and later wafers and fruit salads.

The occasion was one of great pleasure, for whose origin acknowledgment was made to Mrs. L. C. Powell.

The Doctrine Of The New Birth.

On next Sunday at 11 o'clock

I will take up again the discussion of this doctrine from the text "ye must be born again."

Let all true seekers after the truth hear this sermon, and such others as may be presented in this series.

H. B. Urquhart.

The new Methodist church project moves majestically on. The people are coming to the help of the Methodist congregation and good wishes are spoken on all sides. You may listen for the ring of the hammer. The pastor informs this reporter that the building will probably be lighted by gas, such a plant as the one used at the Camp meeting to be installed.

Max Hamberger, Jr., was found dead in his room at a hotel in Mobile Sunday. He was well known over Alabama, having taken a prominent part in the late amendment campaign. He spoke in Coffee county several times against the amendment and in the gubernatorial campaign for O'Neal.

Editor Carlisle, of The Peoples Ledger, at Enterprise, spent yesterday in Elba on business and in mingling with his many friends here. He is publishing a good paper and is receiving a liberal support from the people of Enterprise and Coffee county. Bro. Carlisle's editorials are particularly timely and forceful, their influences for good is felt throughout the state.

We would invite people to go on the farm because of the high cost of living, or to make more food so that non-producers can live at a less cost, but we urge them to farm because we think that the most pleasant way to live is because life on the farm is free from care, and because the best men and women are raised "next to nature."

Senator elect Bowers, of Florida, one of the best known characters in the South, died last week after a few days illness. He was recently elected to the U. S. Senate but never lived to take his seat.

The New York Commission House will be closed to-day, this being the Jewish new year, and a holy day in their calendar.

Much has been said and written during the past few years about the movement of population from the country to the cities. Practically all writers and speakers agree that it is a bad thing, bad for the people and bad for the country. But is it? It is agreed that this increase in cities and decrease in farms has tended to increase the cost of living. To give the producers better prices for what they have to sell, to make life more tolerable on the farms, and to give the farmers money for many luxuries and comforts to which they have had been strangers for many years. Is not this city-ward movement rather a good thing since it helps to adjust prices to a more equitable basis than they have ever known before. Isn't this great out cry simply a kick on the part of city people because they are not now able to buy farm products at or below the cost of production, as they have been doing for the past forty years. So long as the farming population was large enough to make more than could be consumed, and as a consequence, prices were all made in the cities, there was nothing much said, for the farmers have few to speak for them, but when demand equals supply and the producers begin to have something to say about what their products shall sell for there is much to say about it, for the cities have many papers to speak for them, and even the government is willing to come to their aid and spend much money to find out just what is the matter.

View from an impartial standpoint the present prices of farm products are not at all exorbitant. Farmers and farm labor is even now the poorest paid in this section. Though the condition of both has vastly improved during the past few years, there is still much room for improvement, and still room for prices to go even higher, before the average farmer can have the same comforts about Birmingham leads all the cities of the South in growth during the past ten years. It has grown from 88,000 in 1900 to 185,000 at this time. This is growing some.

$2,000,000 DAMAGE.

Enormous Loss From Cloudbursts in Kentucky and Indiana.

Widespread damage in several counties in Kentucky and Indiana has resulted from the cloudbursts which broke after three weeks of almost daily rain. Henderson, Union, Webster and Nicholas counties in Kentucky suffered most. Estimates of the damage have been variously estimated, but it is known that it is very heavy.

A quarter of a mile of the Louisville and Nashville railroad track between Paris and Maysville was washed away, and three steel bridges were totally wrecked, according to reports received. Many houses were carried off by the waters and a large acreage of tobacco, corn and wheat is a complete loss. Live stock also suffered heavily.

The committee of the workmen's federation at Barcelona, Spain, has posted a placard declaring a general strike in sympathy with the striking coal miners at Bilbao and the dock workers and teamsters of Bilbao, who joined the strike movement last week.

Stirred to action by revelations made at recent court cases, city police of London, Eng., started a brisk campaign against the hooker shops. The latter sprang up like mushrooms in the vicinity of the stock exchange, during the rubber boom, and complaints from the public of heated-dice methods were followed by the issuance of the authorities of sheer summons.

A dispatch from Paris says: Lieutenant Vaudin, of the Zouaves, is arranging for the flight of military negroes across the Sahara from Algeria to Timbuctoo with four stops. The purpose of the undertaking is to prove the practicability of the establishment of regular air route across the desert.

Free Sample For Baby's Ills

Something can and must be done for the puny, crying baby, for the child that refuses to eat and is restless in its sleep. And since the basis of all health is the proper working of the digestive organs, look first to the condition of the stomach and bowels.

A child should have two full and free movements of the bowels a day. This emptying of the bowels is very important, as it keeps a clear head, a lightness of step, good appetite and sound sleep. But it is equally important to know what to give the child in the emergency of constipation and indigestion. Cathartics are too strong and cause other serious troubles. Have you ever tried Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin? It is the only medicine that families have been using for a quarter of a century. It is mild, pleasant-tasting and promptly effective. It is good for you as well as the child, but there is nothing better to be found for children. They like its taste—you will not have to force them to take it.

First of all, if you have not yet used it, Dr. Caldwell would like to send you a sample bottle free of charge. In this way you can try it before buying. Later, when convinced of its merits, you can get it of your druggist at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle, just as cheap as other families are doing. The family of Dr. D. W. Beardsley of Stratford, Pa., as well as that of Mr. A. P. Johnson of Walnut Grove, Pa., started with it. That way and now write that it is the best medicine that families have been using for a quarter of a century. It is mild, pleasant-tasting and promptly effective. It is good for you as well as the child, but there is nothing better to be found for children. They like its taste—you will not have to force them to take it.

FROM PRIMARY PLANS. If there is no space among the editor's locals this week or if expected news is not here, you may charge it to the fact that he is down at hard work again.

In a primary school examination one of the questions was with regard to the five senses, one of the bright pupils handled the subject thus: "The five senses are, sneezing, sobbing, crying, yawning, and coughing. By the sixth sense is meant an extra one some people have called snarling." I. M. P.

It is a good thing to be reminding the voters to go out and support the nominees. True, the amount was the issue and on that alone O'Neal and Leon McCord were elected, but on the other hand Seed, Willingham, Julian and others were nominated, the honors were divided and we should all go vote, as a matter of courtesy for one thing. I would vote to take myself out of the class of the disfranchised who are not allowed to vote.

In this connection we would re- the voters of Coffee to support the county ticket and more particularly our fellow townsman S. H. Brock—Horace we call him over here, a clever, accommodating and worthy young man, well fitted for the duties of Clerk. Give him the encouragement of a good strong vote on election day.

A Beautiful Life.

Lafayette Sun. A beautiful life is an honest life. A life of truthfulness, of nobility of the soul and a life of devotion to our loved ones here and to the God who created us. Life, indeed, is but a river running with rapidity, onward, onward ever on. It runs, alas! too swiftly. We have not one moment in which to hesitate or spend in idleness. We should place a guard on our everyday actions, as we travel along life's journey. Just one unkind word can never be recalled; how much better had it never been spoken. Kind words! How little they cost, and yet how dear! Soft words soften the soul. Words hard and angry kindle the fire of wrath and vengeance. Cold words chill while hot ones create ire and discord. There are vain words, idle words, silly words, spiteful words and a multitude of others to guard against. By trying daily to imitate Him who had not where to lay his head only can we live a beautiful life.

Col. Roosevelt's Controversies.

The New York Times. It is not dawning to the moral sense of the American that the "indiscretions" of Colonel Roosevelt are generally treated as a jest, the "Ananias Club" particularly being looked upon as a huge joke. Here is a man who has held the highest office in the gift of the people and who still numbers his admirers by the hundreds of thousands. Yet time after time he has been engaged in controversies in which his veracity has been brought into question. Surely, it cannot be that there is a great conspiracy to discredit him and that all of his antagonists have deliberately lied in order to injure him. The alternative to this proposition is one that is painful to an American to contemplate.

It would be refreshing to see the whole subject taken by the mass of the people in a more serious spirit and an attempt at least made to find where justice lies in these unfortunate controversies.

Its surely the King of all cough and lung cures." Thousands owe their lives and health to it. Scard Over Cholera. Washington, Oct. 8.—How gravely the public health and marine hospital service regards the possibility of the invasion of cholera from the infected sections of Europe became known to-day, when the advisory health board was called to meet in Washington. Another evidence of the alarm with which the situation is viewed came to light today when the service decided to double its officers at every port from which steamships sail or at which immigrants gather in Italy, Germany or Russia. The increasing death rate in Russia and the spread of the scourge into Italy and Germany, has set the public health service on double guard. The whole situation is to be laid before the advisory board, and the public health service experts to have the advice of the foremost scientists.

Points To Churchgoers. A clergyman was smoking a cigar under an oak. "My congregation coughed this morning," he said. "I could hardly make myself heard. It was most annoying."

"Well," said a physician, "the next time they cough, tell them to press the upper lip just beneath the nose. Pressing the nerves in that quarter will stop the most obstinate cough and by the same token, it will stop a sneeze too. I'll tell you how to stop the hicoughs. You press hard on the cheek, right in front of the ear. Those nerves there control the hicoughs as money controls politics. You need only press—the nerves will do the rest."—Philadelphia Bulletin.

Samson Has Two Sets of Officials.

Troy Messenger. Samson, Ala., Oct. 4.—The newly elected Mayor and Council were duly sworn in office yesterday at 9:30 o'clock. The Mayor, Hon. Asa Holoway; Councilmen: J. B. Davis, J. G. Page, P. B. Things are in a very unsettled condition. Yesterday morning shortly after 12 o'clock, a crowd accompanied by three of the retiring Council, met, and on being refused admittance to the Mayor's office, by the night watchman, broke open the door, and swore in the following officers: F. J. Mizell, Mayor; T. A. Hendricks, Len McDuffie, O. J. Angle, J. G. Maloy, George Canant, Council. They convened and appointed the following officers: W. H. Mixon, Clerk; Gilbert Holly, L. S. Hearst's Party Puts Out Ticket.

New York, October 6.—Contrary to the wishes of Clarence J. Hearst, one of W. R. Hearst's chief lieutenants, the Independence league in the state convention vote here early this morning to put a straight ticket in the field, and not to endorse the republican ticket as had been proposed. The vote was 212 in favor of a straight ticket as against 34 for an endorsement of the republicans.

The convention for hours debated the question whether to nominate a straight independence ticket or to endorse part of or the entire republican state ticket headed by Henry L. Stimson. Opinion was divided on the course to pursue, the delegates maintaining that to endorse the republican ticket would crush the individuality of the league. Temporary Secretary Buchanan announced early in the evening that John J. Hooper, state chairman, would be nominated for governor and William R. Hearst for lieutenant governor.

All Records Broken.

Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 6.—Reports of the federal revenue officers show that for the month of September all records for seizures of illicit distillers in Georgia and adjoining states were broken, the total being 127. The previous record was made in July with seizure of 117. According to the records the greatest numbers of captures was made in Georgia.

Brockton No. 2

BY HUSTLER. The great drought was broken by copious showers, which came to our relief Tuesday afternoon. We now expect both rain and cold weather to be with us often or from now on. Farmers are gathering corn and picking peas here this week. Hustler is having a joyous time now—cane and possums have become most plentiful. The farm is said to be the happiest place in the world, but there appears to be a lot of people who had rather be unhappy than to plow. On account of the dry weather we have had, the turnip patches will be "light wads" in this community. In fact all fall crops have been greatly injured. We have heard it said that the Boyd Lumber Company, of Richburg, will run a tram road through this section now pretty soon. It seems that the very bottom has fallen out of the cotton seed market lately. This is probably an act of mercy on the part of the buyers to induce the poor crazy farmers to save back enough for planting. There isn't any chance for the farmer to come out worsted because he is nearly always broke to start with. Xmas is almost in sight again, and it isn't any too soon for farmers to begin preparation for another crop. Let every farmer see how much compost manure he can get between now and planting time. There is nothing on the farm that will give better returns. Try it.

Col. Kyle B. Price and Clerk W. M. Bailey are auditing the books of Elba City Council, and so far they have found the finances of the town in fine shape. There is real money in the treasury, all current expenses have been paid promptly and a number of old debts satisfied. Taken all things together the city affairs, under Mayor Owens and the old council, have been exceptionally well managed. The ex-mayor and old council deserved much more praise than they have ever received, principally because the work they were doing was not of the kind to be seen by every citizen.

VENGEANCE METED OUT

Negro Burned At Stake In County Of Covington.

Andalusia, Ala., Oct. 4.—Six hours after he had committed criminal assault upon Mrs. Hiram Stucky, a prominent young woman of Covington county, Bush Withers, a negro "trusty" at the Henderson convict camp was taken from the warden last night while in route to prison to be an infuriated mob of 400, and burned. The lynching was conducted in a quiet and orderly manner, after which the mob, formed from adjoining towns, dispersed to their homes, leaving no traces of their fury save the the ashes of the negro.

The crime for which the negro was lynched was committed early yesterday afternoon, when he went to the Stucky farm for the purpose of getting drinking water for his fellow convicts, who were employed at a swamp near by. Entering the house, it is declared the negro assaulted Mrs. Stucky, after which he cudged her into insensibility in an effort to stifle her cries. This morning, it is reported, the woman is in a precarious condition with little hope of recovery. Fracture of the skull is feared.

Before lapsing into insensibility Mrs. Stucky informed her rescuers of the assault, naming the "trusty," whom she knew as the perpetrator of the deed. The negro was caught and hurried to the stockade at Sanford, six miles from Andalusia. Upon hearing rumors of mob Warden J. L. Long at 6 o'clock attempted to spirit the convict to prison at Andalusia, but was intercepted on the outskirts of the village, where his charge was taken from him, tied to a stake, shot at and burned.

Two military companies and seven deputy sheriffs guarded the Montgomery County jail of Wednesday night, anticipating a mob bent upon the lynching of John Adams. The negro killed Policeman T. W. Barry and seriously wounded Policeman L. A. Ellington, near Washington Park at noon Wednesday. Adams was taken from police headquarters and released to the county jail about 9 o'clock.

A "Halloween" Party" will be given by the Ladies Aid Society at the residence of Mrs. Flournoy on Halloween night. Invitation will be issued later.

PORTUGAL NOW IN STATE OF REVOLT

Manuel, the Boy King, Said to Be Prisoner.

ROYAL PALACE BOMBARDED

Reports of a Serious Uprising in Porto. A revolution has broken out in Lisbon. The dispatch adds that King Manuel is a prisoner; that street fighting has occurred; that the warships are bombarding the palace, and that communication with the capital is cut off.

The Daily Mail prints its report of the revolution without a date line. According to the Daily Mail, a revolution has broken out in Lisbon. The dispatch adds that King Manuel is a prisoner; that street fighting has occurred; that the warships are bombarding the palace, and that communication with the capital is cut off.

and it probably may be based upon a wireless dispatch said to have been received by the Paris Math reading. "A revolution has broken out in Lisbon and warships are now bombarding the capital. The army and navy are supporting the revolutionaries."

None of the other London morning newspapers print Lisbon dispatches or have any mention of a revolution. A Portuguese merchant in London, says that he received news of a plot in Lisbon on Monday.

Royalist Standard Lowered. A German steamer at Santander, Spain, has received a wireless from the steamer Cop Blanco, of the same line, lying off Lisbon, stating that warships began bombarding the palace just as soon as the rising within the city began. Shortly afterward the revolutionists hauled down the royal standard over the palace and replaced it with the republican green and blue flag.

WORK OF BLACKHANDERS.

Girl Reported Killed and Father Wounded at Dallas, Texas. Following the attempt of alleged "black handers" Sunday to shoot down Vito Genovese, an Italian merchant, and the killing Monday evening of Caroline Bianco, the 9-year-old daughter of Joe Bianco, and the wounding of the latter, Italians in Dallas are in a panic.

The police are exerting every effort to run down the assassins. Genovese is in bed with a broken ankle caused by a pistol bullet. It is the second attempt on his life within a few months.

A shotgun and pistol were used on Bianco and his little daughter by two unknown Italians, who escaped in a buggy.

The police have made two arrests, but have not identified the men.

FIRE AT GULFPORT.

Postoffice, Hotels, Theaters, Business Houses and Other Buildings Burn. An entire business block at Gulfport, Miss., was destroyed by fire Friday. The flames originated in the Commercial hotel at 1:10 o'clock, and rapidly spread in the block on 25th avenue, between 13th and 15th streets. The origin of the fire is unknown and no estimate of the loss can be given at this time, though it will run high. Included in the burned block are the postoffice, two hotels, two theaters, several business houses and a number of frame buildings. It is learned the fire started in a barber shop and the cause is unknown. The postoffice is an old building and the government was only using the building temporarily, intending to move into the new building within a month. No fatalities are reported.
